WASHINGTON, April 8.—Mr. C. W. Moulton, Secretary Sherman's brother-in-law, who was in the city yesterday, informed your correspondent that the Secretary entertains little or no doubt of his nondustion at Chicago. His reesut visit to Ohio was of the most satinfactory character, and he returns here fully convinced that he will have practically the united support of the Ohio delegation. That there will be some men in the delegation who will not support his candidacy, the Secretary is ready to believe, and he will be greatly surprised if it is not so. Ohio is too large a state for one man to expect to be first choice of all the republicans. The republicans in the delegation who will not vote for Mr. Sherman, Mr. Moulton says, are men who are opposed to him on personal grounds, but they constitute a very small minority, and will not be strong enough to divide the delegation, or to prevent Mr. Sherman from receiving the support of more than three-fourths of the delegation. In the event, however, of these men being stronger than is now anticipated, and succeeding in dividing the delegation between Mr. Sherman and Senator Blaine to such an extent as to render Mr. Sherman's withdrawal from the contest a necessity, the entire Sherman strength in the delegation, Mr. Moulton says, will be thrown in favor of General Grant's nomination, instead of Senator Blaine's. At one sime Blaine was the second choice of the Sherman men, but the aggressive war made upon the Secretary by Mr. Blaine's supporters has changed this, and now the Maine senator is not their second nor their third choice. In the opinion of Mr. Moulton, General Grant is certain to be nominated if Mr. Sherman is forced out of the contest. The letters received by Secretary Sherman from various sections of the country convince him that he has as strong a following as Mr. Blaine or General Grant. The South, he expects, will be divided between himself and General Grant, and he feels certain of receiving a very large support from the west and northwest. Mr. Moulton says that because of his relationship to Mr. Sherman he is accused of helping run his campaign,

C." of the terday, that "taking the meeting as a representative one, neither General large number of exceedingly sensible men, is sadly deficient in what may be called brilliant politicians. Of the twelve gentlemen who constitute the Chicago delegation, it is reasonably certain that five, and perhaps six, will vote for Blaine, three or four for Ederal Grant. The Herald's Washington dispatch says of the St. Louis Convention of the anti-third-term Republicans on the 6th of May, promises to be an important body. It is already certain to contain representative Republicans from Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky, and other States remain to be heard from. Against any other can-didate than ex President Grant, those who unite in the protest will have nothing to say, because they do not mean to impose any man on the party, but only to express their aversion to a third-term policy and their objection to one candidate, the ex-President.

CHICAGO, April 8 .- The Inter Ocean's Dixon, Ill., special says: The loss of life in this morning's fire was occasioned by a terrific explosion, which occurred at two o'clock, and threw down the cast wall, scattering the are in every direction, and hurling several fremen who were upon the roof of Becker's mill into the mill race. Of these all but Erra Becker and William Schurn escaped, as by a miracle. The others, who were assisting the firemen, were burned and terribly mutilated by the falling walls at the same time. loss will reach fully $300,000.

BERLIN, April 8 .- The Emperor has replied, by the following cabinet order, to Bismarck's request for permission to retize from office: "I certainly do not ignore the difficulties in which you may be placed by the conflict between the duties imposed upon you by the constitution and your responsibility. WASHINGTON, D. C., April 8 -The persistency of Senators Ben Hill and tate the case of Kellogg, and force the Democrats to support their determination to summarily unseat him, to-day induced the Democratic members in the Senate to cell a cancus on this question. From the discussion it is evident that a large number of Democrats were convinced that the consideration of this subject will bring up an excited and acrimonious debate, which would consume at least six weeks, to the exclusion of more important legislation For this reason they favored a postponement of the question, especialy as an early adjournment was desired. Senators Hill and Saulsbury however insisted upon the consideration of this matter, even though it was clearly demonstrated that it would materially interfere with other and more important business. A number of Senators declined to accede to the bringing up of this question, and although no vote was reached it was shown that a majority favored the deferring of this matter until December next. It is intimated that several Senators hold that it is extremely unwise to reopen this case, it having been agreed, when Butler and Kellogg were admitted, that the action of the Senate then should be regarded as a final settlement of all questions attached to both their cases.

WASHINGTON, April 8 .- The following letter has been sent to the committee on elections

GENTLEMEN-Permit me to carnestly request that you order an investigation into the authorship of a certain anonymous letter addressed to Hon-Wm. M. Springer, chairman of your committee, dated Malch 4, 1880, mailed March 8, 1880, and in which an offer is made to pay Springer $5,000 if he will prevent the democracy from unseating Washburn. Springer has made the extraordinary and unwarranted charge that that letter was written by a friend of mine, with my knowledge and consent

As the letter on its face purports to be an attempt to corrupt the action of a member of your committee, it is due to that gentleman, it is due to Mr. Washburn, it is due to me, it is due the bonor and integrity of the committee of the house, that Mr. Springer be offered an opportunity to prove his charge or retract it, and also to demonstrate who did write the letter in question and for what purposes it was written. It is obvious that any man who was base enough to write, or to inspire the writing of such a letter is unworthy to hold a seat on the floor of the house, and if members of the committee who have been favoring me believed that I was thus guilty I could not expect their further support. I therefore most earnestly, but respectfully, ask that your committee will go to the very hottom of this matter. Truly yours, IONATIUS DONNETTY,

It is reiter discouraging to be a girl just now. The ambilious seek not the distinction. Girls are not the social favorites. The belies of London, this enson, are all married ladies. Matrons before maids is the rule there. This frack of society may have a tendency to drive girls into matrimony, and in this way an institution which moralists, reformers and political economists, have nourned as being on the decline, especially among the wealthy and ultrafashionables, may be revived again. As soon as girls come to know that married women are on the top round of the social ladder, they will be willing to mount by the same means. This is not written for those who have their own work to do and know it, nor for those who do not believe that to be a social pet is the grandent aim of life. Such people know their work and straightway go and do it. Expensive Luxury.

New York Herold.

Modern litigation is an expensive uxury. A lawyer is sueing his clients in our courts for $80,000, alleged to be due him for counsel fees. Æsop wrote an amusing fable about two cats who having stolen some cheese, applied to a monkey for an equitable division. It ended in the monkey eating all of the cheese.

The friends of all political aspirants for Presidential honors, are confident that their particular candidate will come out ahead, but there are others who think there will be a "dark horse" cuter the field at the last moment who will outstrip them all. The best of all horses. although not a political one, is the "Iron Horse,' and such as are used by the Indianapolis, Decatur & Springfield R'y. They are all fitted out with spark arrestters, and in fact the whole equipment of this new short line between the cast and west is the finest in the country.
